

WHAT'S YOUR NEXT CAREER MOVE?

GET YOUR ICCS DESIGNATION

WHAT IT IS

Industrial Construction Crew Supervisor (ICCS) is a designated occupation administered and certified by the Government of Alberta.

It verifies a foreman is knowledgeable in the key competencies required of a frontline supervisor working in the industrial construction industry. ICCS is also a recognized best practice of Construction Owners Association of Alberta (COAA).

WHY YOU WANT IT

SOME OF THE BENEFITS YOU COULD EXPERIENCE WITH THE ICCS CERTIFICATION INCLUDE:

- ▶ Advanced career potential due to recognition as a certified supervisor
- ▶ Strengthened supervisory skills
- ▶ Recognition of competency by industry and peers
- ▶ Respect from your coworkers and crew
- ▶ Confidence in your abilities
- ▶ Enhance your leadership skills
- ▶ Potentially higher income
- ▶ Government of Alberta certification that belongs to you

HOW TO GET IT

NWR is now hosting the ICCS Certification exam through AIT on the Sturgeon Refinery Project. Contact your supervisor or Training@nwrpartnership.com for more information.

*Apply on line as usual and then notify NWR that you would like to write the exam on site. NWR will coordinate with AIT on your behalf and provide you with the next available exam date.
